So thoroughly identified is it with our people that it partakes of the nature of a State institution. Young men and maidens who contemplate a business life, and to the end that they may be successful wish to start fully equipped, should secure practical business instruction by a course under Messrs. Coleman and Palms.

—Mr. Jacob Geckle, aged 55 years, died very suddenly of heart disease, on Saturday night last. During the day he enjoyed his usual health, and retired at nine o'clock after eating supper and reading his evening paper. At ten o'clock Mrs. Geckle felt him kick, and thinking something wrong, asked what was the matter; he made no reply. She then arose and procured a lamp, and was surprised to find he had expired. He leaves three grown daughters, all of whom are married. He was a deacon in the German Presbyterian Church, and much admired by his people. The funeral services were held at the church on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Enslin, and Rev. Mr. Grohuer, of Orange. The pulpit was tastefully trimmed in mourning.

Primary Meeting.

The Primary Meeting of Republican voters of this township, will be held at Upper Library Hall, on Tuesday evening to elect eight delegates to the Convention to be held at East Orange, on Wednesday to nominate a candidate for Congress from this district. All Republican voters are requested to be present.

Accident.

On Friday morning of last week George McClellan of this place met with a trifling accident which caused instant death, at East Orange. McClellan was employed by the Bloomfield branch of the Newark City Ice Company. He was a brother of Mrs. John Griffith of this place and leaves a father and mother at Roseland near Caldwell. The funeral services were held on Monday at Roseland. The following account appeared in the Newark Evening News:

George McClellan, a driver for the Newark City Ice Company, on wagon No. 36, was instantly killed near the Main street crossing at about nine o'clock Friday morning. The 8:43 accommodation train west had just passed, when McClellan, with a piece of ice in his hand passed over, and stepped directly in front of the fast Norristown express. William Lynch, the flagman and others shouted loudly to him, so that he evidently saw the train, but not reckoning the rate of speed at which this train was moving, was thus misled. The man's neck was broken. The train was stopped almost within its length, and after taking the body on board proceeded, leaving it at Newark. Deceased was a single man of about forty years of age. He lived at Bloomfield. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad now have gates in operation at all of the crossings excepting Main street, Arlington and Greenwood avenues. At the two former streets it is probable that they will place gates because of the great width. It has been suggested to have the railroad fenced in for some distance each side of and between these streets, then these gates could be advantageously operated.

The Railway Rioters.

This morning Justice Robinson examined John Randall, Edward A. Wagner, John Gilmartin, George Wagner, William Barr, John Downs, and D. O'Leary, the young men who created a riot on the Zabriskie Post excursion while returning from Greenwood Lake last evening. All were positively identified as being in the mass. They were all bailed, with the exception of Randall, in the sum of $500 during the course of the day, to appear at the Police Headquarters to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock. Detective Clos and Superintendent Smith of N. Y. and Greenwood Lake Railway Company, went to Paterson this noon and swore out a warrant before Recorder Joseph Greeves, charging them with conspiracy to assault and battery. The roughs will be taken to Paterson in the morning before Recorder Greeves and given a hearing, as the riot occurred near Hewitt's Station, in Passaic county.

A Journal reporter interviewed Mr. Stephen Smith, Superintendent of the New York and Greenwood Lake R. R. Company, who was on the train at the riot which occurred on Zabriskie Post's excursion last night. He said: The roughs were intoxicated, and were quarreling and making a disturbance on the cars. Commissioner Meyers, chairman of the Committee of Arrangements of the Post, with others, undertook to quiet them, and a general row ensued. As soon as I saw they were fighting I stopped the train myself, and would not allow it to proceed until the disorderly ones were completely subdued, and arrangements made to insure the safety of the passengers. The published report of the train was in the power and under the control of the roughs is incorrect. At no time was such the case. The conductor had full charge and control, and the train was stopped and started by him as I directed. The arrests were made in order to punish the offenders, and, if possible, to teach them, as well as others, that such conduct would not be allowed on a railroad train."—Jersey City Journal, Aug. 22.

Ocean Grove.

This has been a great week at Ocean Grove. The largest number that has ever been there at one time, some thirty or forty thousand, who are lodging on the ground, and every day a large number to spend a few hours at the camp meeting or by the seaside. Last Sunday evening the Beach meeting was attended by a multitude variously estimated at fifteen to twenty five thousand. There were three overflow services, besides about seven thousand who were at the auditorium in the morning, where Dr. O. H. Tiffany preached with rare excellence and power. The meetings have been admirably conducted, and a number of conversions are recorded every day. On Wednesday, ex President Grant occupied a seat on the platform, beside the speaker of the hour, the Rev. Dr. Newman, of New York.

Those not specially interested in the religious services of the week, find the fishing in the vicinity very fine, while the bathing has been all that could be asked for. This city by the sea is all the while adding to its size, conveniences and attractions.

Watessing Republicans.

The Republicans of Berkeley district, Bloomfield, and Franklin district, East Orange, including all who favor protection to American industries, have formed the Watessing Blaine and Logan Campaign Club and have erected a Wigwag on Dodd and Prospect Sts., at Watessing.

The Wigwag was dedicated Friday evening, Aug. 22d, with appropriate exercises.

There were about 400 persons present, among them a goodly number of ladies, and at every mention of the name of Blaine or Logan, the enthusiasm was intense, while throughout the best of good feeling prevailed.

After music by the Watessing Twilight Band, whose services were kindly donated for the evening, the Rev. Daniel I. Edwards offered prayer, dedicating the Wigwag to the purpose of the advancement of this cause of good government.

The Watessing Glee Club rendered very effectively several campaign songs.

Mr. F. H. Fitch, the President of the Campaign Club, delivered a neat and appropriate address of welcome.

Letters to the Club from Mr. Blaine and Gen. Logan were read by the Vice-President.

Mr. Wilbur A. Mott, a young lawyer from Newark, made the first general speech of the evening, in which he very effectively, and at times eloquently, discussed the record of the two great parties and their candidates. He retained throughout the attention and interest of his audience.

An interesting and able address was made by Mr. Joseph Coult, one of Newark's leading lawyers, on the issues of this campaign, and the conduct of the Republican and Democratic parties in relation to the great questions of the past twenty-four years, the education of our people, the fostering and protection of our industries, the resumption of specie payment, and civil service reform, not forgetting the liberation of the slaves.

Mr. Coult described the Democratic ship, "Free Trade," as a double ended, having a free trade flag at one end and protection at the other; but she always had sailed to wards a free trade port, except when laid up in Salt River. He thought, however, that Cleveland was likely to blow her up, for he had never studied navigation, nor sailed so long a craft before.

A short speech was also made by Mr. Rowland Johnson, of Orange.

The speakers were frequently interrupted by salutes fired by the Bloomfield Battery, whose services also were free, and who did their best in spite of the dampness, to add lustre to the occasion.

The Wigwag is built in the usual manner, and has a plank flooring, is well lighted and ventilated, and is tastefully decorated; and, better than all, it has been dedicated without debt.

Mr. Blaine's Record.

Some time ago I asked some questions through your columns. They were hard questions for a Blaine paper, and with corresponding patience, I have waited for an answer. You evidently cannot answer, and will not reply.

I put them again. How do you explain the "Mulligan Letters"? What has Mr. Blaine done, that he should aspire to be President? Why, as a class, should our Irish born citizens support him?

I do not expect an answer. The chief characteristic of the Blaine organs is ostentatious parade of the ancient history of their party, and careful concealment of the history of their candidate.

Why is this so? This is not the way in which the charges against Lincoln, Grant and Garfield were met. Those were explained and denied, their authors were prosecuted.

This is not the way Mr. Blaine meets false charges; he sues for libel.

Why not explain and deny now, why not prosecute now?

Is Shoemaker's charge so much worse, than that of the Evening Post? Yet we wait in vain for the prosecution of that paper.

What is the difference in effect between the plea of non vult and the plea of guilty? Again I urge an answer, many a doubting Republican awaits an answer, that will clear away his doubts.

The Gas Lights Once More.

To the Citizens.

The "Committee on Improvements" wish to let the citizens know that they have looked into the matter of lighting the streets, and that at present a definite answer cannot be given, or completed estimate made, by the Electric Lighting Co. of Newark. If it could get the use of the poles used by the telegraph company the miles of wire would not cost very much, as few additional poles would be necessary, and the present gas lamp posts could be utilized. We will endeavor to get the facts as speedily as possible, and in estimating it will include the lighting of those prominent thoroughfares that the gas company cannot afford to. We sincerely hope to bring this to a successful issue before the time arrives to make a new bargain with the gas company.

The grading of the roadway of Washington street has added greatly to the comfort of the people that way. More streets will be treated the same way, the committee expects.
